

Two little inventors, a rabbit named Shabu and a squirrel named Chow, tumble from adventure to wee adventure under the care of Grandfather and Mama Mien in the Burrow. Join Shabu and Chow as they explore a world bubbling with tiny challenges and mighty discoveries.

The WEE Little Adventures of Shabu and Chow is a series of fun, and exciting, self-contained stories for children as young as 3, (when read to, and, who doesn't like fluffy rabbits and squirrels) up to 8 years old. Our intention is to create stories that encompass the ideas of adventure, curiosity, imagination, and a bit of mischief. These ideas, no doubt, appeal to kids in these age groups. Also, we are interested in writing to a level where parents can find the stories interesting as well, further adding to the appeal of reading the books to their children.

For the Kickstarter campaign, there are four books written, illustrated, and ready for publishing under the: The WEE Little Adventures of Shabu and Chow title. The following four are ready for publishing, but we have many more planned for the future.

Books soon to be available through Kickstarter:

DUMPLING DISASTER

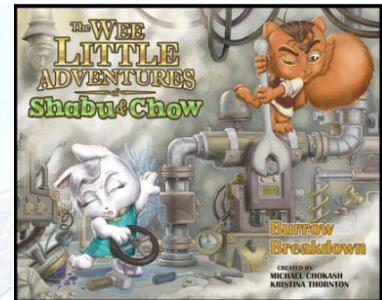

When Chow's stomach won't stop growling, Shabu invents the Dumpling Expellorator to make him a snack. However, she soon loses control of the machine. Can anyone stop the flood of dumplings before it's too late?
